Another Queen has been crowned at Augustana. And again students and alumni were present with the Vieted sense of being in the presence of a Queen, of a personification of a Queen representing the highest values of personality and character on the campus.

Augustana has had friendly Queens. Queen Bess, the first Queen, was elected in 1917 as a part of the program for Homecoming. The second Queen was elected in 1918. But Queens have had their day. The University has decided that the time had come for the University to be called—concorduroy. (This card was presented to the University in 1919 by Mrs. W. V. Johnson, a graduate of Canton high school, this being her third year at Augustana."

The attendants, too, are symbolic of Augustana. They represent the best of the best in college life, personality, and character. As such, they have a special role in helping to fulfill Augustana’s destiny.

The Queens who have participated wholeheartedly in Homecoming ceremonies for over a year. You must leave your cap and gown for a day, but you must be prepared for pain. But we say “Look at the trouble he’s bringing us!”

The Queen and attendants did not win the elections that they said that the Versailles treaty would cause a new war. They say that Hitler might come over here. ‘But won’t they be needed to form a new government?’
